g. Summary of DoD information system or electronic collection. Answers to these questions should be consistent with security guidelines for release of information to the public.

(1) Describe the purpose of this DoD information system or electronic collection and briefly describe the types of personal information about individuals collected in the system.

The South Texas Intensive Care Unit Registry (STICUR) was developed as a proof of concept to collect data on both medical and trauma patients admitted to the region's Intensive Care Units and is managed at Brooke Army Medical Center, Joint Base San Antonio, Fort Sam Houston, Texas. This registry will be used to collect, store, and retrieve data describing etiology, demographic characteristics, diagnosis, treatments, and clinic outcomes of critically ill/injured patients. It will be an information resource for those involved in Emergency Medical Services, clinical audit, clinical governance, resource utilization, health service management, and health service research. The goals of the Registry include serving as a benchmarking tool for quality improvement and identification of potential research populations in the management of the critically ill/injured patient. Ultimately, the ICU Registry will be used to identify trends in patient care and improve patient outcomes by establishing best practices throughout the entire continuum of care.

The types of personal information collected in the system include demographic data and medical information.

(2) Briefly describe the privacy risks associated with the PII collected and how these risks are addressed to safeguard privacy.

The privacy risks associated with the PII collection are unauthorized access, inaccurate information in the system/electronic collection, and unauthorized disclosure of PII. There are security measures in place to mitigate these risks. Personnel are also required to complete Information Assurance Awareness, Privacy Act, and Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) training on an annual basis.
